MIRROR'S SPORTS WELL UNDER WAY

BASISBALL:
Mirror baseball team will start their practices next week on the old diamond near the school house. There is plenty of material here for an A.1 team, but without practice the team as a winning aggregation will never amount to two whoops. Captain Iveson wants every person who has played ball or desires to play, to turn out and take a hand in the work-outs. Monday will be the first practice night.

TENNIS:
A meeting to organize a tennis club in Mirror, was held last Saturday evening, and a goodly number of racket-wielders were in attendance. J. W. Pringle was chairman and the following are the officers chosen for the ensuing year:

Hon.-Pres. T. S. Little;
Pres. Dr. G. M. Meyer;
Vice-Pres. P. M. Carmichael;
Sec.-Treas. H. P. Crittall;
Executive Com. Pres. Vice-Pres. and Sec.-Treas.
Patronesses, Mrs. T. S. Little, Mrs. A. G. Suggett and Mrs. K. B. Iveson.

The membership fee was placed at $3.00 for gentlemen, and $1.00 for ladies. Any person wishing to join will have to make application in writing to the executive. The court south of Mr. Little's residence will be improved by a coating of cinders and a 1,000 pound roller purchased. The colors of the club are red and white.

The executive are planning for a tournament after May 1st, so that anyone wishing to participate will have to join before that date.

FOOTBALL:
The football club have not yet organized for this year. Quite a number of last year's players are available and a number of new "kickers" are in town. A first-class team could be picked to represent Mirror on the football field.

The Delburne "Progress" states that a football league may be formed among the towns along the G. T. P. line.

GOLF CLUB:
A number of Mirror's trapshooters are in Bushaw today, Friday attending the second annual trapshooting tournament held by that club. The representatives from here were R. A. Hopkins, E. E. Estell, Chas. Sables, Ray Simpson and Carl McCormack.

With the approach of spring, not only the thrifty individual but also the Village Councilors are thinking of the best means of making the appearance of things better and more cleanly than last year, with the result that our surroundings may be more pleasing and beautiful. Let us all take pride in our private property and appointments and also our public utilities. Cleanliness is akin to Godliness.

TRAVELLERS MAY PICNIC AT MIRROR

A telegram was received this (Friday) a. m. from the Travelers' Association in Edmonton asking if Mirror could provide transportation to Buffalo Lake for a picnic crowd of travellers to the number of about 400, who will probably visit here some day during the coming summer.

W. C. McCormack, president of the Board of Trade replied, stating that means would be provided to carry them to Mirror's summer resort.

If the travellers decide to have their annual picnic here, the citizens should unite as one to give the "Knights of the Grip" a hang-up time.

The first blood of the war between the United States and Mexico was shed Monday and on Tuesday Vera Cruz was occupied by the U. S. Marines. On the American side 4 men were killed and 20 wounded, while the Mexican loss is believed to have been about 200.

The water front at Vera Cruz, the customs house and all important places have been occupied. The Mexicans put up a stubborn resistance.

The Mirror Cash Store has added a 14-foot oak show case counter, with air-tight compartments. It is a handsome piece of furniture.

CHICK CHAT

Hatch your chicks in April or early May if you want winter layers. Keep them growing continuously, as while you are growing your chicks you are growing your eggs.

Young chicks are babies—Treat them as such.
Do not feed the chicks for at least thirty-six hours after they are hatched as feeding so soon overtaxes their digestive system and causes diarrhoea.

Dust the sitting hens and keep them free from lice at all times.

Protect the chicks against chilling when transferring them to the brooder or coop.
Have your brooder clean, disinfected and heated before transferring the chicks from the incubator to the brooder.
Use chaff for litter in the brooder. Never use damp or musty litter.

Teach the chicks that under the hover is their source of heat supply. A little patience in this matter will save many from sickness or death through chilling. If chicks huddle together the brooder is too cold, if they scatter to the corners it is too hot.

Remember that unsanitary or damp conditions breed lice and disease. Disinfect the brooder or coop occasionally, and clean out the brooder or coop often and remove the dirt.
Give chick grit for first feed.
It is advisable to feed commercial chick food for the first two weeks. Where commercial chick food is not used feed stale bread crumbs, rolled oats, or crushed oat meal.

Hard boiled eggs may be fed occasionally, but should be mixed with other foods or fed sparingly.

After the chicks are two weeks old they can be gradually weaned to cracked wheat, and finely ground oats with the hulls removed.

Keep bran, grit, shell, ground oats, green feed and fresh clean water before your chicks at all times. Chicks should have a supply of animal food or skim milk. Never allow milk to remain in vessels till it sours.
Self-feeding hoppers located in a dry place containing bran, ground oats, and grit insure a constant supply of food to the chicks. Cracked grain should be fed in the litter.

If the chicks droop their wings or appear to be sickly look for head lice. Head lice burrow into the head of the chick and can be killed by an application of equal parts of lard and sulphur.
Get your chicks on grass as soon as possible. Green feed is necessary to rapid growth.

A wet mash or skim milk and ground oats may be fed to advantage occasionally by way of variety. Always feed clean wholesome food.

CLAY EATEN BY INDIANS

Was Considered a Delicacy by a Number of Tribes

There have been several tribes of Indians in America that in times past were given to eating earth as food.
The Timpani Indians of the Mackenzie River used to resort to this The Pawnee used to prefer a yellowish clay, which they shaped into little balls that were allowed to dry in the air and were then slowly roasted at the open fire. When the clay attained a red color the balls were removed, moistened with water and eaten.
These clay balls were especially liked when served in connection with fish, and seem to have promoted digestion.

The Indians in the uplands of Bolivia ate a light clay that is nearly white in color. This they used either raw or in the form of cakes of various shapes, which were sold in the market places. They also prepared a sauce with the clay; this they ate with boiled potatoes.

Among the negroes of the Guinea coast, as well as among those in West Africa, the eating of dirt is very common. The natives of Senegal dig their favorite clay from between layers of sandstone in the banks of the rivers. The natives of Java prepare their cakes of clay containing ochre; these are sold in the public markets.

You Can't Earn Money When You're Laid Up

There are a lot of people in this town who cannot afford to be sick.
Perhaps none of you feel that you can,
but certainly none of you can't, for as soon as you are sick, your wages stop and worry and debt begin to pile up.
The trouble is, you do not do so soon as you feel run-down and worn out, no matter what the cause, it is to take something just as quick as you can to build up strength and health.
Make yourself more comfortable and provide against serious sickness.

We don't believe there is any other medicine made that will do as much helping you save your money as does all Olive Oil Emulsion. It is a medicine that gets right at the trouble and relieves it by toning the nerves, enriching the blood, and giving new strength and health to the whole body. It doesn't do this by means of alcohol or habit-forming drugs, because it contains none. Its strength and health-giving power is due to pure Olive Oil and the Hypophosphites, long endorsed by successful physicians.
It is one of its food value, the other for its tonic value. Here, for the first time, they are combined, and the result is a real nerve, blood and body-building medicine—a real strengthener that we are proud to tell you about.
You don't need to hesitate in using it, because if it doesn't do all we say it will and satisfy you in every way, it will cost you nothing. If it doesn't make you strong and well again, we will back and get your money, if it will be given to you without word or question. Sold only at the more than 7,000 Retail Stores, and in this town only by us, $1.00—Suggett Bros.

EXTENT OF FISHERY

Canada's Industry is the Most Extensive in the World

To say that Canada possesses the most extensive fisheries in the world is no exaggeration; moreover, it is safe to add that the waters in and around Canada contain the principal commercial food fishes in greater abundance than the waters of any other part of the world. The extraordinary fertility of what may be called our own waters is abundantly proved by the fact that, apart from salmon, all the lobsters, herring, mackerel and ards, nearly all the haddock, and many of the cod, hake, and pollock landed in Canada are taken from within our territorial waters. The coast line of the Atlantic provinces, from the Bay of Fundy to the Straits of Belle Isle, without taking into account the lesser bays and indentations measures over 5,000 miles; and along this great stretch are to be found innumerable natural harbors and coves, in many of which valuable fish are taken in considerable quantities with little effort. On the Pacific coast, the province of British Columbia, owing to its immense narrow bays and fjords, which form a sea-washed shore of 7,000 miles. Along this shore and within the limits of the territorial waters, there are fish and mammals in greater abundance, probably than anywhere else in the whole world. In addition to this immense salt-water fishing area, we have in our numerous lakes no less than 226,000 square miles of fresh water, abundantly stocked with many species of excellent food fishes.

Perhaps you think that it is not important to study the food problem. We eat only a few meals daily, and can manage to find enough nutriment somehow. Let us tell you what a chemist claimed is the amount of average person consumes during a lifetime of 70 years. Thirty oxen, 200 sheep, 100 calves, 200 lambs, 50 pigs, 1,200 fowls, 300 turkeys, 2,000 fish, 30,000 oysters, 5,475 pounds of vegetables, 1,770 pounds of butter, 24,000 eggs, 41 tons of bread, 3,000 gallons of tea and coffee, 418 gallons of spirits and 49 hog-heads of wine.

Guaranteed Relief
From All Bowel Ills

If your bowels are out of order, instead of using those harsh salts or other physic, take a Recall Obedience tonight, and tomorrow you will feel better. It is the best and safest remedy that there isn't a particle of gripping or purging, nor the excessive looseness that follows the taking of salts and most pills. They slacken and weaken the bowels, promptly relieving the constipation, making it unlikely to recur again.

We don't believe there is any other bowel remedy anywhere near so good and at the same time so easy and pleasant to take as Recall Obedience. We know you will agree with us and believe you will thank us for telling you about them. If they don't satisfy you in every way, come back and tell us so. We will give back your money without a word or question. We have no reason to hesitate to give you the opportunity, as we hereby do, to try them at our risk. In fact, we make the return, for 25c. only. You can try Recall Obedience only at The Recall Store, and in this town only of us, Suggett Bros., Mirror, Alta.

THE KING'S LIFE GUESTS

RESIDENTS OF ROYAL PALACE

GIVE A LOT OF TROUBLE.

Refusal of Lady Scott to Take Royal Residence Recalls Previous Episodes Connected With the Guests of Britain—Hampton Court Contains Twenty Families of Distinction and Indigence.

It is announced that Lady Scott, widow of the hero of the South Pole, has declined the offer of a royal residence, as a mark of the disapproval of the way in which the fund raised for the relief of British exin honor of the late king. The condition has been handled. It is only the past year or so that the great majority of us have heard of a royal residence as distinct from the residence of the reigning monarch, and probably few people knew what it was.

Royal residences first broke in print in recent times, when it was announced that the private solicitor of King George were about to appear to the courts with a view of having sundry occupants of royal residences removed. Later on we heard that

The case in point was that of noblewoman who had been placed a royal residence by the late King Edward, which means that she had been given apartments rent free. After the King's death it was suggested that she should vacate in order that some other recipient of the royal benevolence might move in, King George having friends of his own that he wished to provide for. It

No doubt ever since the Norman Conquest the Kings of England have been providing certain of their friends with free lodging for the remainder of their days in recognition of some service rendered. Up to the time of responsible government it was the fashion of royalty to prehis favorites with a few thousand acres of land and a grant from the public treasury, but after these privileges had been abolished, especially after the coming of the Hohenzollerns, certain royal residences were reserved, and the reigning monarch was permitted to install in them his needy friends and relatives.

Strictly speaking, to-day Parliament might assert its right to say to the tenants should not be the particular friends of the reigning monarch, but that the royal residences

Hampton Court which is one of the show places of London, and once the home of royalty, is a palace inhabited chiefly by indigent persons of rank or distinction that the king might be near to them as free ants. Some twenty families occupy the premises. Their accommodations range from five to twelve rooms. If the King were to rent the apartments, he would receive some $20, or $30,000 a year, and the money would go into his private purse. Incidentally it might be remarked that the nation pays $75,000 a year for the maintenance of Hampton Court. The present tenants are, for the most part, widows and daughters of naval and navy officers and men who have been killed in the war.

Before being eligible as tenant is necessary that the applicant must be an affidavit to the effect that his net income is not more than $1,000 a year. In the other royal residences no such rule applies, and at the present time many apartments are occupied by persons well able to pay for their accommodation.

A case in point is that of the Countess Fedora Gleichen, a cousin of King, who was granted apartments in King Edward, or rather her father's.

It was this countess who was questioned by the agents of King George to pay rent, but she declined to do so on the score of poverty. It is noted that the countess, who is a sculptress, is also in receipt of a pension, is earning some $20,000 a year, and can well afford to pay good rent. Nevertheless, the countess has refused to move out of the premises at St. James' Place.

The gift residences around Windsor are also said to be a source of considerable annoyance to King George who finds them occupied by persons who have no particular claim on him or upon the nation. The king has the advantage of the law in this respect, that King George is very loath to appear in a court of law.

There are nine of these residences at Windsor, and of the tenants

Sir Dighton Probyn, King Edward, who installed them to their vacation upon demand, is held that unless there was a agreement to this effect the tenancy can continue to occupy during their lifetime, and most of them will doubt insist upon their legal rights in the matter.

seem to have regarded the park as his own to such an extent that he spent several thousands of dollars beautifying it. He says he will not when he is reimbursed for his improvements, but as his expenditure does not improve the premises, or for his own occupancy, his claim have been refused. Probably Dighton will be buried from Wrentham.

FINE OPERA HOUSE

The framework of W. J. Kadlec's new hall is beginning to show itself and a staff of carpenters are proceeding with the work in good shape. The hall will be a two-story structure, 80x40 feet; the first story will have a 14-foot ceiling, and the second, a 12-foot ceiling. The upper floor will be used for lodge rooms, etc.

There will be a main entrance to the ground floor from Gilman avenue, with two exits, one on the north and the other on the south side. No pillars will obstruct the view of spectators, and the floor, which will be of maple, will be one of the best dance floors between Calgary and Edmonton. A 20-foot stage will be erected at the east end of the hall.

It is expected that the building will be ready about June 15th, and the Yeomen Lodge, who have already engaged the hall, will hold the first dance.

Spring wheat is full swing and a little wheat is already in the ground.

An acetylene gas plant in the basement of the hotel at Macoun, Sask., exploded at the noon hour on Monday last, and the building was burned to the ground. Eleven people lost their lives in the catastrophe.

Dame Ransom is already mentioning a number of projected improvements in the S. B. L. district but it is a little early yet for the annual crop of new buildings. However, we are informed that W. N. Jack will erect a large barn in the near future.

Foolish to Suffer From Stomach Ills

What's the use of suffering from heartburn and other disagreeable things caused by Dyspepsia and Indigestion, when we offer you the privilege of using Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets entirely at our risk, with the distinct understanding that, if they don't relieve your stomach trouble and make your stomach comfortable and your digestion easy, they will cost you nothing. If they don't do all you expect them to, we want you to tell us and let us give back your money. We know what they have done for others, and what they are made of. This is why we have confidence in them.

Among other things, they contain Pepsin and Bismuth, two of the greatest digestive aids known to medical science. They soothe and comfort the stomach, relieve heartburn and distress, promote the secretion of gastric juices and help make the bowels regular. We believe them to be by all odds the best remedy for indigestion or dyspepsia ever inside. We believe you will say so, too, once you have used them. If you don't, they will cost you nothing. Sold only at the cost of 7.00 per box, and three boxes for 20.00. Write for a trial. Three boxes, 25c, 50c and $1.00. Suggest Bros., Mirror, Alta.

Miss Edith Brewster returned on Friday evening from Edmonton, where she has been attending the business college.

The recently issued order by the post office department at Ottawa that letters containing coin which were transmitted through the mails were to be sent to the dead letter offices unless registered has been suspended. The new regulation caused much adverse criticism throughout the country, and a few days ago the deputy minister stated that amounts up to one dollar would be accepted unregistered. An order has now been given out that letters containing coin are to be forwarded in the regular manner. At the Ottawa post office a large number of letters which infringed the rule were sent to the dead letter office and evidently returned to their senders. The amended regulations will be in force indefinitely, or at least until the public are more generally acquainted with the proposed alteration.

Now that spring time has come, let us clean up your yard and surroundings, thus adding much to our personal comfort and hygienic safety and at the same time helping to beautify our village. Naturally we are admirably located, but there is always room for improvement. A nicely kept lawn, tastefully arranged shrubbery, a little painted brang happy results, and aside from the effort on our part, costs little, but speaks volumes for our thrift, enterprise, and value of property and creates a desire for dwellers of thrift to come and abide with us.

The Alberta board of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada will hold their annual convention in Calgary on the 5th, 6th and 7th of May, next.

The gray geese, ducks and swans are now doing their annual spring moving, which with the appearance of the geese, is perhaps the most significant sign that spring has arrived. There are times when the geese mislead their cues and had to "bent it" back southward, but if you check up his misses you will find that they correspond with unusual spring storms and blustering snow squalls. They, however, rarely rush the season, and not until there is open water in the middle of the lakes will they venture this far north. Apparently they know by the feeling of their goosebumps when it is safe to go north hunting in the north, and until they feel the right angle do not forsake the southern waters.

Two hundred and eighty-seven cwt. of coke was produced, 6,010 men inside and 2,231 men outside, produced 4,306,316 tons of coal, 130,861 tons of briquettes and 65,167 tons of coke during 1913, an increase of nearly 25 per cent over 1912. A million tons was exported to other provinces in Canada and to the United States. The classification of the output is as follows: Bituminous, 2,374,401 tons; lignite, 1,763,225 tons; anthracite, 168,720 tons; used in coke production, 104,042 tons. The foregoing statistics are incorporated in the annual report by John T. Stirling, chief inspector, just issued under the direction of John Stocks, deputy minister of the provincial department of public works.

An Edmonton preacher, while speaking on Sunday evening, on "Death Dead All," from the text—"If a man die shall he live Again," brought out much evidence to show that after death comes the judgment, holding that a heaven and hell were necessary to straighten out the inequalities and injustices of this life. He cited a case, wherein an editor and a local bank manager were "at outs," incidentally remarking that it was a serious thing to be at outs with an editor. In this case the editor decided to ruin the banker, and started out by inserting in his paper a very short paragraph in which he insinuated that the confidence placed in the bank was not altogether warranted. The banker, on the other hand, and although the banker did his best to overcome the suspicion which had been aroused, he was unable to do so, and was literally ruined and died. The speaker held that repentance on the part of the editor could not atone for such an action, that it must be settled in the after life. The principle may be alright and the conclusion correct, but show us the editor of this part of the world who is able to worry a banker!
